Struck By a Fit of Economy-Propos Reduction of Salaries-Personals

and Briefs.

From Our Regular Correspo WASHINGTON, July 1.—Immediately after the reading of the Journal in the House this morning the Speaker laid before that body the veto message of the President to the bill to quiet the titles of certain settlers on lands on the Des Moines river, in Iowa. The bill originated in the Senate, and was passed by that body over the veto and sent to the House for concurrence. Mr. Pay-son, of Illinois, made a powerful argumentagainst the position of the President and in favor of the measure on its merits. An attempt was then made by Mr. Oates to relieve the House of the responsibility of action in the premises by burying the bill and message in the debris of the Judiciary Committee-room. This, however, failed to carry, and the next vote was on the main question to pass it over the veto. The roll-call revealed 161 in favor and against such a course. It unfortunate that the President should have interposed his jection, as the measure is one that comnends itself to every one familiar with it, and would have passed in spite of him had it not been for the fact that eighty-two Democrats in the body felt it their duty to sustain a Democratic members on the floor. Senstor Riddleberger broke out in a new spot to-day. Troubled, no doubt, with a too-sensitive conscience, he has introduced a bill cutting down his own and other salaries 25 per cent. from and after March 4th next. His reasons are set forth in an exhaustive preamble, in which it is alleged that the condition of the national finances are such as to make it necessary to encourage the expenditure of public money or for Congress to reduce the revenue." He then alleges that it has been the policy of Congress to destroy the one and two-dollar bills, without issuing snything to take their places, and has done everything possible to discourage the circulation of silver. In a spirit of vengeance for this dereliction of duty. Mr. Riddleberger, instead of having the Solons placed in the corner with fool's their heads, as was his wont with his children when a country school-teacher, proposes that their salaries be reduced as above stated. The reduction is to apply to the President and his Cabinet and both houses of Congress.

President. This fact developed in the informal discussions of the bill by

Congressman Barbour and party, consisting of N. S. Turnbull, of Brunswick, Mrs. Pinkney and Miss Ellen Dangerfield, left this evening for New York, and will sail for Europe Saturlay. Mr. Tucker's committee, at its meeting to-day, decided to report favorably the substitute offered by Mr. Rogers for House Bill 9292, limiting the fees of United States Court officers. In a communication sent to the committee by Comptroller Durham that gentleman claims that the proposed bill will save hundreds of thousands of dollars to the Government each year. He cites the case of a clerk of a circuit and district court in Indiana, whose salary amounted to $3,500, while his fees over and above expenses amounted to $3,500.25.

Mr. Tucker also reported favorably bills to remove the political disabilities of General W. H. F. Lee, of Virginia. and Captain John K. Michell, of North

WASHINGTON, July 1, 1886.

Mr. Miller, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported back without amendments House bill taxing oleomargarine, and gave notice that he would call it up for action after the passage of the appropriation bills.

Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, stated that Senators George, Gibson, Fair, and himself, the minority of the committee, dissented from the report. Mr. Hale, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported back, with amendments, House bill for the relief of the survivors of the exploring steamer Jeannette, and of the widows and children of those who perished. Put upon the calendar.

Mr. Allison called up the House joint resolution extending appropriations for

Mr. Edmunds called attention to this way of doing business and to the pre-sent state of affairs. For several years past appropriation bills were not sent Senate in time to have them properly considered, and when they came to the President he had no time to examine them, but had either to sign them blindly or to veto them blindly. He gave a list of dates at which appropriation bills were received by the Senate for the last three er four Congresses, and said that this was not a credit to Congress. If Congress could not better administer public business in the most important of its features (the proper control of public money), it was not deserving the confidence of the people. He thought, therefore, that the Senate ought to take some step in some lawful, constitutional, and respectful way to see if it can't get on with this important public business in a reasonable, respectable, and satisfactory manner. If they could not bring themselves into better fashions about this business he should rather let the wheels of government stop by refusing to pass this joint resolution. The passing of such resolutions was a very confusing and mischievous practice. Mr. Beck stated that an extension for ten days was simply absurd. The aundry civil bill had not yet reached the Senate, and that bill alone would require at least three weeks for its consideration. Since throwing grass had no effect he was in favor of trying the efficacy of stones, and he thought that it would do no harm to let the Departments close for a week.

Mr. Saulabury called attention to the fact that this delay in the appropriation bills was no new thing. He understood that when Mr. Buchanan was President a refused to sign any important bills Mon tat did not reach him ten days before the expiration of the session.

After further discussion the joint Ky.

resolution was amended by extending the time to fifteen days and passed.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the legislative appropriation bill. A long discussion took place on the point of order as to whether the amendment to insert the words "in Contract Awarded-Fatally Injured by full compensation" was or was not in conflict with the rule. The Chair submitted the question to the Senate and the amendment was decided to be in order, and it was agreed to.

The bill was reported back to the Sepate. All the amendments on which separate votes were not demanded were sgreed to in bulk. The reserved amendments are to be acted on te-morrow under the five-minute-debate rule.

The Senate then, at 7 P. M., ad-

The appropriation for the Public Printing Office was made the occasion for another heated partisan debate, in the course of which Mr. Bayne, of Penn- | the $500,000 to be subscribed in Philasylvania, after avoiding several points of order, succeeded in reading from a speech made in the Senate yeserday by Senator Beck, in which he expressed his humiliation that the House should reduce the appropriation so that the members of that body could go before the country and tell hew economical the House was and how extravagant the Senate. He read a published interview with Mr. Holman, in which that gentleman is represented as saying that the extrava gance of the present House in voting appropriations was an outrage on the people and a violation of the party's pledge.

Mr. Randall, acting under instruc tions from the Committee on Appro-priations, offered an amendment appropriating $47,000 to meet the expe of the inauguration of the statue of Liberty Enlightening the World.

Mr. Hewitt, of New York, offered a substitute appropriating $106,100 for that purpose

Mr. Bland raised a point of order against both propositions.

Mr. Hewitt argued against the point, and, coming down to the merits of the proposition, he said that the time had come when the unparalleled evidence of sympathy and good-will of a sister republic was to be inaugurated by the President of the United States in the presence of the donors and the civilized globe, which would look on the monu ment as one of the grandest achieve ments of art, and as a proof that free people retained for each other a feeling of regard and sympathy higher than ail mercenary considerations of trade and commerce. It was a tribute from the heart of the French people to the heart of the American people. Mr. Belmont seconded Mr. Hewitt's

Mr. Hammond, of Georgia, spoke against the point of order and in favor of appropriating a suitable sum to inaugurate the statue in a proper manner. Should the Government go in a nig-gardly way, and, taking off its hat to the French people, say, "We are much obliged," or should it in a dignified manner make ever memorable the day on which the inauguration ocernment to do the latter.

The point of order was overraled Finally Mr. Hewitt's substitute slightly modified, was agreed to-116 to 49. It appropriates $103,600 for the installation of the statue of Liberty Enlightening the World, on Bedloe's island, in the harbor of New York, to be expended under the direction of the President for the objects specified in the estimates submitted by the engineer of the American committee in charge of the work, so far as the President shall deem said expenditures or any part of them to be necessary and proper.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the House. The amendments were agreed to in bulk, except those relating to the issue of small greenbacks and small silver certificates, which were agreed to without division. and the Bartholdi-statue amendment, which was rejected-yeas 103, navs

The bill was then passed, and the House, at 5:45 P. M. adjourned.

The Public Bebt Statement

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) Washington Notes [By telegraph to the Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, July 1 .- The President has signed the Fitz John Porter

bill. The Senate Committee on Agriculture agreed this morning, by a strict party vote, to favorably report upon the oleomargarine bill without amendment.

The House Committee on Rules today resolved to allow the Committee on the District of Columbia one day next week without restriction for the promotion of local legislation.

The Committee on Public Buildings will be given two evening sessions in the same week for action on bills reported by that committee. A resolution will be reported extending until the next session of Congress the time allowed Curtin's special labor committee in which to report, but the scope of its investigations will not be extended. It was the sense of the committee that the state of business before the House precluded the idea of an adjournment over next Monday, July 5th.

The President this afternoon proved the joint resolution providing for fifteen days for the expenditures of the Government not provided for in the appropriation bills already passed.

Exciting Scene in the State Conven tion Yesterday.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] DES MOINES, IOWA, July 1 .- Th Democratic State Convention met here lo-day. Various committees were the appointed, and, while waiting for them report, a resolution expressing the ood-will of the Convention toward ladstone and Parnell and hoping for their success was passed.

The platform adopted endorse President Cleveland and his adminis tration; favors honest pension bills, but opposes special laws; calls on Congress to revise the tariff laws so a to meet the needs of revenue only ; de clares in favor of the payment of the public debt and in favor of legislative adjustment of the labor question; de nounces the new congressional district law; demands the investigation and conviction of all malefeasance in public office: favors the repeal of the prohibitory law and the enactment of a local option law, extending to counties and cities-the license, if adopted, to be not less than $500. The report of the maority on the liquor question was adopted-yeas 387, nays 213.

After the adoption of the platform a resolution was sent to the platform condemning as an outrage and a travesty on justice the action of the State senators who took $216 pay for the recess before the impeachment trial began, An attempt to lay the resolution on the table failed by a viva-voce vote. Sena-tor Knight, of Dubuque, one of the senators who had taken the pay, rose to defend himself and his colleagues He branded the resolution as a lie and the man who wrote it as a liar. He said it was not true that senators had not earned their pay. Proceeding in his defence, he was hissed all over the house, and an angry scene followed. "I defy the Convention," said he, "and the man who wrote this resolution to injure me so long as I have the confidence of my constituents of Dubuque." He asked the Convention if it wanted to denounce abuses why it did not denounce th President of the United States for going down on his knees to a corporate monopoly and vetoing the Des-Moines river land bill at the demand of a powerful land ring. [Hisses and cries o You must not attack the Democrati President!"] Senator Knight continued in an impressive way, "Why didn't you denounce the Judicial Department of this Government, loaded down with Pan-Electric stock and corruption? Great excitement and yells of "Put him out!" | "I will be heard," said Knight, "and I defy you to come to Dubuque and the counties where I am known and hiss me down."

At the close of his speech, while the resolution was pending, the Convention adjourned for dinner in great confusion. The Convention re-assembled at 'clock and an angry debate ensued on the pending resolution.

Judge Cook offered a resolution holding the Republican party responsible for passing the law under which the back pay was taken and excusing individual senators who took it.

The Convention, after an excited debate, voted down the substitute and adopted the original motion. Cato Sells, of Black Hawk county was then nominated by acclamation for Secretary of State, and Paul Guelick of Burlington, for Auditor. The State Greenback Convention

Up to 3 o'clock this after noon sixteen Tory candidates, seven Unionists, eight Liberals, and two Par-nellites had been elected to the new House of Coramons in Union contested In the election at Colchester to-day

H. J. Trotter, Conservative, polled 1,996 votes, and R. K. Canston, Gladstonean, 1,701. This is the first con-tested borough, and the result of the election is considered to have special significance. The Pall-Mall Gazette said that if Colchester went Liberal the fact would give heart to the party throughout the land. The result shows that the [Gladstonean candioate lost ground. Among the districts in which the Conservative candidates were unopposed were Blackburn and Coydon, although at the last election the Liberals made a good fight at both places. In Westminster, which has considerable Irish votes, there was no Gladstonean candidate to oppose Burdett-Coutts. The Marquis of Lorne has refused to contest Seven Oaks or Hampstead in the Gladstonean interest, and has advised the electors to vote for Unionist candidates.

GELS FEAR TO TREAD,"-So Impetuous youth is often given to folly and indiscretions; and, as a result, nervous, mental, and organic debility follow, memory is impaired, self-confidence is lacking; at night bad dreams occur, premature old age seems setting in, ruin is in the track. In confidence you can and should write to Dr. R.V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the author of a treatise for the benefit of that class of patients, and describe your symptoms and sufferings. He can cure you at your home, and will send you full particulars by mail.

"Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there?" Thanks to Dr. Pierce, there is a baim in his "Golden Medical Discovery"—a "baim fo svery wound" to health from colds, coughs consumption, bronchitis, and all chronic blood, lung, and liver affections. Of drug-riets.

TO LADIES

suffering from functional derangements or any of the painful disorders or weaknesses incident to their sex. Dr. Pierce's treatise illustrated with wood-cuts and colored plates (160 pages), suggests sure means of complete self-cure. Sent for ten cents in stamps. and Miss Taylor, in the second piece, made a very successful debut. Mr. Ogden did himself very great credit, and Mr. Herbert, in his chort rote of the Gardener, made all wish that he had more to do. Both pieces will be repeated to-night and at Saturday matinee, and deserve crowded houses.

In this court yesterday a jury was sworn in the case of Moon's Administrator vs. The Richmond and Alleghany Railroad Gompany. The evidence was heard, and the case adjourned over until 12 o'clock to-day. Moon was ecuployed as brakeman on a material train on this road, and was thrown from his train by the engine jumping the track where the latter was being worked on, receiving injuries from which he died. His administrator sued for $10,000. M., as it usually does on moath-jy-settlement days, and closing at 1 P. A., the afternoon sessions having been discontinued during July and August. The session made up in spirit what it lacked in length. In both the wheat and provision pits sharp activity prevailed, and values were all higher. August wheat started stronger at 75½c, rose a fraction, and ruled steady until near the close, when buying became general and the price advanced to 76½c. In a few minutes, closing at oniside prices. In the afternoon on the curb large sales of wheat were reported, with the price up to 77c. No special cause was assigned for the sudden advance beyond a steady domand and decreasing stock. Corn and oats ruled stronger in sympathy and closed a fraction higher. Meas-pork made another strong spurt, advancing 40c. per barrel and closing at nearly the outside figures. Lard ruled firm.
